Once upon a time, there was a place so rich in natural beauty that a God called Pisu decided to go there and make it his home.
Since then the place is called Pissurlem

And so, God Piso settled there and many Centuries passed Peacefully...

But, one day...

People came...

To dig for iron ore!

They started building houses

Money came to the village and with it also came greed

The life of the forest and the mountains were no more

The Ecology of the entire area was slowly destroyed
How sad! My forests are gone! I can't live here anymore!
